Cabrillo Credit Union CEO wins community service award

Anne McClure

Daily Transcript Staff Report

Cabrillo Credit Union CEO Anne McClure was recently awarded the Dora Maxwell Social Responsibility Community Service Award for her work with Rady's Children's Hospital.

The Dora Maxwell award is given to a credit union or chapter/multiple credit union group for its social responsibility projects within the community.

Credit unions could receive the award for involvement in almost any kind of activity that helps other people or strengthens the structure of a community. Involvement includes raising funds for charity, educational activities, or community involvement projects, such as a volunteer fair, building low-income housing, or loaning employees a few hours a week to work in hospitals, retirement homes, schools, etc.

McClure joined Cabrillo Credit Union in 1992 and has worked in a range of capacities to help wherever needed to build a diverse and successful credit union. She has worked diligently to further establish its marketing, human resources and training departments. Her educational background includes a Bachelor of Arts in English from the University of California, Irvine.
